College Readiness: The New North Star

A warm welcome to our more than 600 BAEO Symposium 2013 participants! We are honored to host parents, educators, elected officials, clergy, BAEO board members, chapter leaders and staff, emerging leaders, funders, and partner advocates in the battle for parental choice and education reform. Whether you are a first timer or a returning participant, we will inform, inspire and empower you to transform the lives of our children!

This year's theme, College Readiness: The New North Star, inspires and affirms all of the Symposium's main stage events, sessions and special features.

College readiness, persistence and graduation rates are shockingly low for children of low-income and working class families. BAEO invites all participants to focus, learn and think in new ways about college readiness - one of the single most important predictors of college persistence and success and a key factor in the eradication of poverty and closing the success gap.

The Thursday events begin with the Welcome and First Timers Orientation to learn more about BAEO's vision, history and initiatives. The Opening Ceremony and Board Chair's Dinner will open with an energizing student performance from the High School of Recording Arts. In her keynote, repeat presenter Bishop Cheryl McBride Brown will bring the wisdom of Harriet Tubman, Malcolm X and the Apostle Paul. And for the first time, we will honor elected officials who continue to enact, expand and protect legislation for parental choice, charter schools, and education reform.

Our first-ever College Readiness and Success Boot Camp for registered Symposium youth will kickoff Thursday evening with a screening and discussion of the film First Generation, which tells the story of four high school students who set out to break the cycle of poverty by pursuing a college education. On Friday, seasoned college coaches from Beyond 12, supported by Bishop Brown, will prepare emerging leaders for college enrollment, persistence and success.

Welcome!

Apple will share 21st century teaching and learning environments by sponsoring a “hands-on” classroom experience using iPads and a visit to Ocoee Middle School, an Apple Distinguished middle school.

We proudly welcome back the producers of the ground-breaking documentary American Promise, an award-winning recipient at the 2013 Sundance Film Festival. The film explores race, class and educational opportunities for two African-American boys and their families over 12 years.

BAEO's President Kenneth Campbell will facilitate the Annual Seminar on Education Policy and Parental Choice for elected officials to recharge their commitment to influence, advocate and lead.

At our Friday lunch, we are pleased to welcome Dr. Marvin L. Sapp, pastor and Grammy nominated, Dove, Stellar and BET award-winning gospel artist and founder of the Grand Rapids Ellington Academy of Arts and Technology (GREAAAT).

The General Session and Closing Ceremony will feature A Straight Up Conversation with BAEO's Funders and a rousing keynote by BAEO's Founder and Board Chair Howard Fuller.

Finally, at the Closing Reception, hosted by the Symposium 2014 host region, we will celebrate with a New Orleans Mardis Gras complete with a second line led by the Sophie B. Wright Charter School brass marching band from New Orleans, Louisiana.

Again, welcome to Symposium 2013, and thank you for joining us in the movement!

American Promise* Film Screening and Discussion

Filmmakers and parents, Michele Stephenson and Joe Brewster, turned the cameras on themselves as their son began school at a renowned independent college prep school. American Promise follows the family as they grapple with the meaning of a “good education,” the harsh realities facing young Black boys in today’s school system, and a steadfast desire to put their son on a successful path. Recent winner of the US Documentary Special Jury Award at the 2013 Sundance Film Festival, American Promise is the centerpiece of a comprehensive, crossplatform campaign aimed at engaging parents, youth and teachers to come together to close the achievement gap in education.
